

VOLUNTEER PROGRAMMES

We are proud to partner with African Impact, one of the world's top volunteer abroad organisations, in order to provide volunteering options after an English language course with Kurus English.

Volunteering after your English course at Kurus English

Kurus English provides English language Courses (for course details, see price list) and organises volunteer programmes run by African Impact. African Impact runs projects in 11 countries including South Africa. The main focus of their Cape Town projects is community volunteering and we can offer you pre-selected volunteer projects that run for 2 weeks or more.

Social Impact Experience

Contribute to the development of an informal settlement in Cape Town African Impact has worked with for over eight years, Red Hill.

Throughout their stay, volunteers will be able to engage and empower different age groups within the community, while contributing to African Impact and Red Hill's long-term goal of positive, sustainable development.

One night each week, volunteers will stay overnight in Red Hill with one of the families they have worked with in the community.

Duration: 2-12 weeks, from USD 1.935

Childhood Development

African Impact partnered with pre-schools caring for children between the ages of 6 months and 7 years. These schools offer children from disadvantaged backgrounds an invaluable head start to their education and future, with a specific emphasis on helping them to prepare for their next step to primary school. The volunteer's role is to implement a fun plan of activities to help the children with their basic development needs, which will enable them to grow and learn.

Duration: 2-12 weeks, from USD 2.023

Sports Coaching

As a sports volunteer with the African Impact team, students will get a unique opportunity to immerse themselves in the vibrant township communities that many tourists don't often get to discover. Volunteers assist and conduct physical education lessons with disadvantaged children during the school day and help to uplift the community by engaging in sport development while getting hands-on experience in South Africa.

Vets assistance

Animal protection and care is often overlooked in impoverished communities, including those surrounding the iconic South African city of Cape Town. Volunteers join African Impact at a reputable animal rescue center and assist in rescuing, rehabilitating, and re-homing lost, abandoned, abused, and neglected domestic pets. Volunteers are able to help at two different animal welfare sites and gain an all-encompassing understanding of veterinary care in Cape Town.

Duration: 2-12 weeks, from USD 1.935

African Big 5 & Wildlife Conservation

This project is based in Kruger National park area.

The focus of this project is to monitor the “Big Five” African animals first hand and to assist in vital conservation within the area. Volunteers work with local partners and assist them with data collection, which provides information to conserve these species. Volunteers will live in the heart of the world-famous Greater Kruger Area, in our very own private volunteer lodge, surrounded by nature.

Duration: 2-12 weeks, from USD 2.753 (flight to Johannesburg/Hoedspruit is not included)

How it works

- All projects require a police clearance certificate, not older than 6 months, for the project placement. Please organise this in your country of residence and send us a copy.
- We recommend doing an English language course before you volunteer. Choose your English course and volunteer program and then enrol with Kurus English.
- During your English course we can organise accommodation for you close to the school (for details, please see price list). Once you have finished your course you will move to the volunteer house in Muizenberg/ Kruger National park, where you will stay with other volunteers and African Impact staff.
- Transport from the volunteer house to the projects are included in the project fees
- Pick up and drop off at the airport can be arranged– please note that free airport transfers are only available on Mondays and selected Sundays.
